Introduction

Wine has been an important part of Greek culture for over 4000 years. The cultivation of the vine is not known from where they began. Some said they came from Crete, from which it spread to Naxos, Chios and then across the country. Others give priority to Etolia and others in Thrace, from where the Greeks supplied wine during the siege of Troy. In Thrace also manufactured the famous wine Ismaros, with which Odysseus drunk Polyphemus and Vyvlinos for which Hesiod speaks.

The ancient Greeks knew well the nutritional value of wine as it became an inseparable part of their daily regime. They loved to organize intellectual gatherings called "symposia" where they would eat and talk about philosophical subjects while drinking wine. Our ancestors also realized the important influence of the local ecosystem on the characteristics of wine. They traded their wines throughout the ancient world inside sealed amphorae and even created their own Appellations of Origin.

What is unique in Greece is that there are more than 400 Greek grape varieties, some of which are well known worldwide and have received best reviews from wine critics. These extensive varieties of grapes together with the ideal Greek climate combine to provide an excellent environment for the production of high-quality wines.

As Wine Director for a reputable restaurant, I relish in the challenge of guiding the evolution of our exciting wine program. The kitchen's commitment to excellence demands that we nurture the growth of a purposeful and carefully selected wine list to complement our fine Greek cuisine. Our wine list is also dotingly expanded with approachability, value, and quality always in mind. While special attention is paid to showcasing Hand Crafted Greek Wines. We currently offer over 750 wines, with 40 of these also available by the glass. Our wine list is constantly evolving, offering weekly by-the-glass specials, as well as several high-end wines, typically only available by the bottle. Our wine program also includes monthly wine specials, quarterly winemaker dinners, and themed tastings menu. We hope that you will enjoy what we believe to be an inspired selection of beautiful wines. And, please don't hesitate to ask any member of our team if you have any questions about our wine program or would like a wine pairing recommendation.

*Cheers,

Winery Profile

Alpha Estate, Amyndeon, Florina

Alpha Estate was founded in 1997 by the experienced viticulturist Makis Mavridis and chemist-oenologist Angelos Iatridis, who, after years of experience in various locations of Greece and abroad, chose the Amyndeon region to create his own wine.

The knowledge and love for winemaking was passed on to the next generation. Angeliki Iatridou and Emorfili Mavridou carry on the tradition today, aspiring to evolve, while participating in the team's common vision.

Human factor is indispensable to the expression of all elements, gracefully offered by the unique ecosystem of the privately owned 220 ha vineyard in the production of our wines. Main feature of our work is the "soul" of the people that contribute every day to this dream, with respect to nature, combined with high quality and deeply eco-friendly growing practices of sustainable viticulture and winemaking, based on the most recent international standards. Professional know-how, experience and the team's effort, throughout all stages of production and promotion, are necessary conditions to the desirable result: wines sealed under the Alpha Estate label.

Traditional Wine of Greece: Retsina

Retsina is a Greek white resinated wine, which has been made for at least 2,000 years. Its unique flavor is said to have originated from the practice of sealing wine vessels, particularly amphorae, with Aleppo Pine resin in ancient times. Before the invention of impermeable glass bottles, oxygen caused many wines to spoil within the year. Pine resin helped keep air out, while infusing the wine with resin aroma. The Romans began to use barrels in the 3rd century CE, removing any oenological necessity for resin, but the flavor itself was so popular that the style is still widespread today.

Natural Wines

Isabelle Legeron, Master of Wine and one of the leading figures in the natural wine world defines "Natural Wines" through the following criteria.

- 1. Organic grapes, grown without the use of artificial chemicals.
- 2. Wine prepared by hand using artisanal techniques.
- 3. Made using traditional winemaking processes that enable balance.
- 4. Creating a living wine, with low intervention in the cellar.
- 5. Promoting well-being in individuals & communities.

We here at Molyvos we go one further; we believe that Greece, with its near 4,000-year history of making wine is actually synonymous with the thing we today call "Natural Wine." When Aristotle mentions in his writings the wine made from the grape Limnio 2,400 years ago what he was referring to was most certainly a natural wine. indeed, every wine in the ancient world was a natural wine. Greece has seen a renaissance with respect to the ancient traditions of wine making in recent years. We are happy to offer you a curated selection of the best that Greece has to offer.
